BANK ROBBED

CHICAGO, Sept. 26.—Two bandits held up the West City Trust and Savings, on the Northside, about noon today and escaped with about $2,000, according to bank officials. Although first police reports indicated the loot was about $10,000, bank employees said that sum was too high.

CHEERS GREET EACH MENTION OF 'AL' SMITH

(Associated Press)

SYRACUSE, Convention Hall, Sept. 26.—The Democratic state convention was called to order shortly before 1 o'clock, standard time, today for its concluding session. The proceedings were more than an hour and a half late getting underway.

The platform was adopted by unanimous vote and Governor Al Smith was nominated. Governor Smith's name was constantly applauded throughout the presentation of the platform and when the governor's record in New York was mentioned, the band struck up "The Sidewalks of New York." There were cheers when Senator W. T. Byrne read the plank in the modification of the Volstead act and the band played "How Dry I Am."

There was a great yell of approval when the plank condemning the Ku Klux Klan was read, the delegates arising when the band played "America."

The senator said he was glad to have to throw his prepared speech out of the window because he was so glad of the opportunity to support the governor in the nomination. The band interrupted this speech by playing, "The Sidewalks of New York" again, and "Hail, Hail, the Gang's all Here."

Apathy Toward Political Races Denied By Davis

(Associated Press)

WILLIAMSON, W. Va., Sept. 26. John W. Davis, Democratic candidate for president, campaigned today in the southwestern section of his home state of West Virginia.

The nominee, attended by a party of West Virginia candidates for state office, appeared on the rear platform of his special car at each village and hamlet, where he was greeted by crowds.

At Crum, the candidate told those gathered on the station platform that he brought a message of assurance of Democratic success in November. The party, he said, would be victorious because it ought to win, had the issues to win and had the will to win.

Speaking of reports that there was a great apathy in the country so far as interest in politics is concerned, the Democratic standard bearer said: "Everywhere I have been the people turned out just as you have done this morning by the hundreds and thousands to hear politics talked about."

INTERESTING PROGRAM GIVEN BY ATHENS GIRLS AT KIWANIS CLUB

The young ladies and faculty members of Athens college are being lauded today for the splendid entertainment they gave the Morgan Kiwanians on Thursday evening at the Y. M. C. A. following the regular weekly club gathering and dinner and a program participated in by every member of the club and their guests.

Ten young ladies of the institution and three members of the Athens Kiwanians afforded an entertainment of unusual interest and one of the best programs of the entire year.

The evening was opened with regular song and prayer after which an enjoyable dinner was served by the ladies of the Westminster Presbyterian church. Arriving a little late the visitors from the neighboring city were served dinner and enjoyed the program offered by the club members which consisted chiefly of songs by the entire club and a number by the double quartette of Kiwanians that attended the club meeting in Athens during last week.

Miss Christine Rogers opened the evening's program planned by the Athens club with a very interesting and highly amusing reading in negro dialect. Her imitation of the expressions of a negro mammy on the occasion of a negro wedding with an extremely startling climax was out of the ordinary and the gifted young lady responded to the applause with other equally as interesting and well perfected numbers. The chorus of young ladies, attractively costumed, gave the second number on the evening's program and this also was greatly enjoyed by the membership. Mrs. Armstrong presided at the piano assisted by J. R. Daniel of the Morgan club. The young ladies who were so enjoyable in the chorus numbers were: Misses Margaret Wall, Juanita Johnson, Bebe Sanders, Martha Armstrong, LeRuth

Glaze, Mary Ross, Mary Huston Martin and Evelyn McWilliams.

Misses Johnson and Martin responded to several encores in dancing numbers that were very artistic and enjoyable.

Following a number of songs and dances by the chorus of young ladies Miss Koma Nelson featured the evening with a reading of incidents of the late World war. Miss Nelson closed the program with a gripping story that was exceedingly well done and a compliment to the faculty of the Athens institution. Miss Nelson responded to a tremendous ovation with a number in lighter vein that was as well received as her first number.

The young ladies were entertained at the Princess Theatre after the meeting as guests of the Morgan Kiwanis club.

Guests of the club for the evening including Frank Martin, Charles Sarver and Leon Cartwright of the Athens Club; Miss Ethel Sudlow, of Birmingham, child welfare worker of the state of Alabama; Carter McFerrin, W. A. Green, former local resident and now manager of the H. G. Hill stores in New Orleans; Dr. A. J. Perolio, head of the Valley Health Department of Northern Alabama; A. C. Bailey and Honorable Frank Morgan, of the Alabama Public Service Commission.

PRESIDENT TURNS CHARGES OVER TO ATTORNEY GENERAL

Stone To Investigate
All Allegations
Made By League

PREPARE TO ACT AS WARRANTED

Leaders Of League Are Asked To Confer
On Accusations

(Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—President Coolidge has turned over to Attorney General Stone for investigation the charges of the Law Enforcement League of Philadelphia that there is "political corruption all down the line in Pennsylvania by federal officeholders."

The charges were made in a message to the president yesterday by William R. Nickelson, Jr., secretary of the league, in which the president was asked to intervene in the controversy between Mayor Kendrick and his director of public safety, Brigadier General Butler.

Mr. Coolidge has given no indication that he will intervene in this controversy.

Attorney General Stone immediately telegraphed William R. Nickelson, Jr., secretary of the Enforcement League of Philadelphia, asking that responsible officers of the league confer with him relative to charges made by Mr. Nickelson.

Mr. Stone announced that he was making a thorough investigation of the complaint and is prepared "to take such appropriate action as the facts may warrant." Meanwhile, he added, he is awaiting the conference with the officers of the league.

The Attorney General already has given some study to the charges which heretofore have been made in Philadelphia and it was said he has not found a basis for them. He declared today, however, that he desired to have any facts that Mr. Nickelson, or other officers of the law enforcement league may have in their possession and asserted he would deal with the situation thus shown.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 26.—The statement of the Law Enforcement League, made in a telegram to President Coolidge, that "it possesses signed documentary evidence charging political corruption all down the line, in the state of Pennsylvania, by federal office holders and that it is the worst sport in the union," is being investigated by United States Attorney General Stone by direction of the president, according to information given out here.

LA FOLLETTE WILL TOUR THE COUNTRY

(Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—Senator Robert LaFollette, Independent presidential candidate, has decided to make a swing across the continent, carrying his fight for votes into at least a score of states before the close of the campaign.

The Senator's itinerary will carry him into the middle west early in October, on through the middle west and into Pacific coast states. He intends to wage warfare with particular vigor in California, where electors pledged to him have been ruled off the ballot, forcing his supporters to vote for electors listed under socialist party designations.

Davis J. Niles, who is working out the itinerary with Senator LaFollette said today arrangements were being made to have Mr. LaFollette deliver addresses in Boston and several New England cities.

HE SEEKS NEWS OF MISSING DAUGHTER

William E. Ricks, Fifth avenue South Albany has made inquiry of officials, as to the whereabouts of his daughter, Della Ricks 15 years of age, who about 10:30 o'clock last Saturday night left the family residence and has not been seen here or heard of since. Mr. Ricks stated that until he could get no word from the child's grandmother who lives near Corinth, Miss., he was inclined to believe his daughter was with her. But now since almost a week has passed and no word of his daughter, he is very much disturbed for her safety. Since the death of the daughter's mother about five years ago, Della, with an older sister, have kept house for her father and helped him with one sister six years old and looked after the wants of several older brothers. Ricks is a successful farmer.

In speaking of the departure of his daughter, Mr. Ricks stated that after he retired Saturday night, that Della and her older sister remained in the front room, reading and that he believed the younger girl must have left the house about 10:30 o'clock.

The father stated that soon after it appeared his daughter had left the community, that he informed several of her absence and requested aid in locating her. He stated that he gave out the information to The Daily concerning the disappearance of his daughter in the hope that some one would see the account and give information that might lead to her recovery.

MRS. HARRIS FREED OF FORGERY CHARGE

(Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—A third degree forgery charge against Mrs. Eleanor Elane Lee Harris, former wife of Beverly B. Harris, one-time vice-president of the National City bank, was dismissed today by the grand jury.

The grand jury acted on the statement of Harris that he did not care to press the charge. It was Harris who caused his former wife's arrest at a fashionable hotel last May.

He alleged she forged a letter she offered as evidence in an attempt to obtain a new trial of Harris' suit for annulment of their marriage.

"This is a great moral victory," said the woman in criminal court today when she learned the charge had been dismissed. "I am very happy."

NEW BIRTH SUBJECT OF FINE SERMON

Rev. C. E. Otey, of Danville, Va., who is conducting a revival meeting at the First Christian church, will continue his labors until the end of this week, and including Sunday, but he expects to leave for his home next week.

Last night the evangelist spoke on the "New Birth." He declared that that experience signified a change of life. Rev. Otey stated that unless a changed life resulted from Christian profession, such profession was vain, and that many whose names were on the church register did not have them "written in the Lamb's Book of Life."

The preacher said that being born from above, meant that those who professed such an experience must take on new responsibilities.

He said that the new birth made people "akin to God."

In a sincere and humble manner Rev. Otey told his hearers that being born again made people truly humble, but not "beholding."

G. E. McCullough led the choir with Mrs. Otto Owen at the piano. Mrs. Frank Morrow of the Westminster Presbyterian church, sang a beautiful solo.

The devotional exercises at the opening of last night's service, which was well attended, were led by Rev. Noble R. Edwards, the pastor, and the closing prayer was by Rev. J. H. Hill, a former pastor of that church.

Moulton News

Miss Lydia Tidwell of Blountville arrived in Moulton Wednesday to enter upon her duties as county supervisor of rural schools. This is to be Miss Tidwell's second year as supervisor in Lawrence County. During the summer she has studied at Peabody College for teachers at Nashville and recently attended the state meeting of supervisors at Montgomery.

Miss Addie Moles of Moulton was married Tuesday evening to Mr. Elmer C. Towe of San Antonio, Texas at the home of her father, W. A. Moles. The ceremony was performed by Judge W. R. Jackson with the family as witnesses. The couple immediately left for Birmingham and after a few days visit in Missouri they make their home in San Antonio where Mr. Towe is a bookkeeper in the army base at that place.

Committees are at work preparing for the Lawrence County fair to be held in Moulton on October 10 and 11. In the past the plans have been carried out more as a community fair but this year the exhibits are to represent the county as a whole and yet keep the community spirit pre-eminent.

The plans are to have all exhibits on the public square. Committees of high school students are to sell various refreshments for the benefit of equipment fund for the new county high school as well as bear expenses of the fair.

Announcement has been made of the approaching marriage of Miss Hilda Irwin to Mr. H. H. Cowan of Moulton on October 1. They will make their home in Moulton.

Bookkeeper Falls Heir To Fortune

"Upon the death of an uncle I inherited $50,000. I gave up my position and intended enjoying myself when I was stricken with a severe case of stomach trouble and colic attacks. Two of these attacks made me lose consciousness. After treating with our best doctors with little benefit, I decided to try Mayr's Wonderful Remedy, and it helped me at once. I have been entirely well for past year." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. SYNOPSIS

Sir Oliver Tressilian, renowned for his exploits on the Spanish Main, is betrothed to Rosamund Godolphin, but the marriage is opposed by Rosamund's brother, Peter, who takes every opportunity to manifest his antagonism. A stinging insult finally provokes Oliver, in the hearing of witnesses, to threaten to kill him; but the thought of Rosamund deters him. That night, however, Oliver's young half-brother, Lionel, accomplishes what Oliver would have liked to do, and is himself wounded in the encounter. Peter, Lionel relates, in a fit of jealous anger over a woman, had affronted him and drawn his sword; he had killed merely in self-defense. Terror-stricken, he extracts a promise from his brother to keep the affair a secret. Suspicion fastens upon Oliver, who unwillingly protests his innocence to Rosamund and her guardian, Sir John Killigrew. They tell him a trail of blood, undoubtedly that of the murderer, has been found to lead from the dead body to his doorway.

He returned home with hell in his heart. He knew not what the future might hold in store for him; but such was his resentment against Rosamund that there was no room in his bosom for despair. They should not hang him. He would fight them tooth and claw, and yet Lionel should not suffer. He would take care of that. And then the thought of Lionel changed his mood a little. How easily could he have shattered their accusation, how easily have brought her to her proud knees imploring pardon of him! By a word he could have done it, yet he feared lest that word must jeopardize his brother.

In the calm, still watches of that night as he lay sleepless upon his bed and saw things without heat, there crept a change into his mental attitude. He reviewed all the evidence that had led her to her conclusions, and he was forced to confess that she was in some measure justified of them.

It was a heavy cross to bear. Yet for Lionel's sake he must bear it with what fortitude he could. Lionel must not be sacrificed to his egotism for a deed that in Lionel he could not account other than justified. He were base indeed did he so much as contemplate such a way of escape as that.

"The other two grew tensely interested. The parson watched him with unblinking eyes."

But if he did not contemplate it, Lionel did, and went in terror during those days, a terror that kept him from sleep and so fostered the fever in him that on the second day after that grim affair he had the look of a ghost, hollow-eyed and gaunt. Sir Oliver remonstrated with him, and in such terms as to put heart into him anew. Moreover, there was other news that day to allay his terrors: the justices at Truro had been informed of the event and the accusation that was made; but they had refused point-blank to take action in the matter. The reason of it was that one of them was that same Master Anthony Baine who had witnessed the affront offered Sir Oliver. He declared that whatever had happened to Master Godolphin as a consequence was no more than he deserved, no more than he had brought upon himself, and he gave it as his decision that his conscience as a man of honor would not permit him to issue any warrant to the constable.

Sir Oliver received this news from that other witness, the parson, who himself had suffered such rudeness at Godolphin's hands, and who, man of the Gospel and of peace though he was, entirely supported the justice's decision—or so he declared.

Sir Oliver thanked him, protesting that it was kind in him and in Master Baine to take such a view, but for the rest vowing that he had had no hand in the affair, however much appearances might point to him.

When, however, it came to his knowledge two days later that the whole countryside was in a ferment against Master Baine as a consequence of the attitude he had taken up, Sir Oliver summoned the parson and straightway rode with him to the justice's house at Truro, there to afford certain evidence which he had withheld from Rosamund and Sir John Killigrew.

"Master Baine," he said when the three of them were closeted in that gentleman's library, "I have heard of the just and gallant pronouncement you have made, and I am come to thank you and to express my admiration of your courage."

Master Baine bowed gravely. He was a man whom Nature had made grave.

"But since I would not that any evil consequences might attend your action, I am come to lay proof before you that you have acted more rightly even than you think, and that I am not the slayer."

"You are not?" ejaculated Master Baine in amazement.

"Oh, I assure you I use no subterfuge with you, as you shall judge. I have proof to show you as I say; and I am come to do so now before time might render it impossible. I do not desire it to be made public just yet, Master Baine; but I wish you to draw up some such document as could satisfy the courts at any future time should this matter be taken further, as well it may."

"I assure you, Sir Oliver, that had you killed him after what happened I could not hold you guilty of having done more than punish a boorish and arrogant offender."

"I know, sir. But it was not so. One of the pieces of evidence against me—indeed the chief item—is that from Godolphin's body to my door there was a trail of blood." The other two grew tensely interested. The parson watched him with unblinking eyes.

"Now it follows logically, I think, inevitably indeed, that the murderer must have been wounded in the encounter. The blood could not possibly have been the victim's, therefore it must have been the slayer's. That the slayer was wounded indeed we know, since there was blood upon Godolphin's sword. Now Master Baine, and you, Sir Andrew, shall be witnesses that there is upon my body not so much as a scratch of recent date. I will strip me here as naked as when first I had the mischance to stray into this world, and you shall testify yourselves of that. Thereafter I shall beg you, Master Baine, to indite the document I have mentioned."

And he removed his doublet as he spoke.

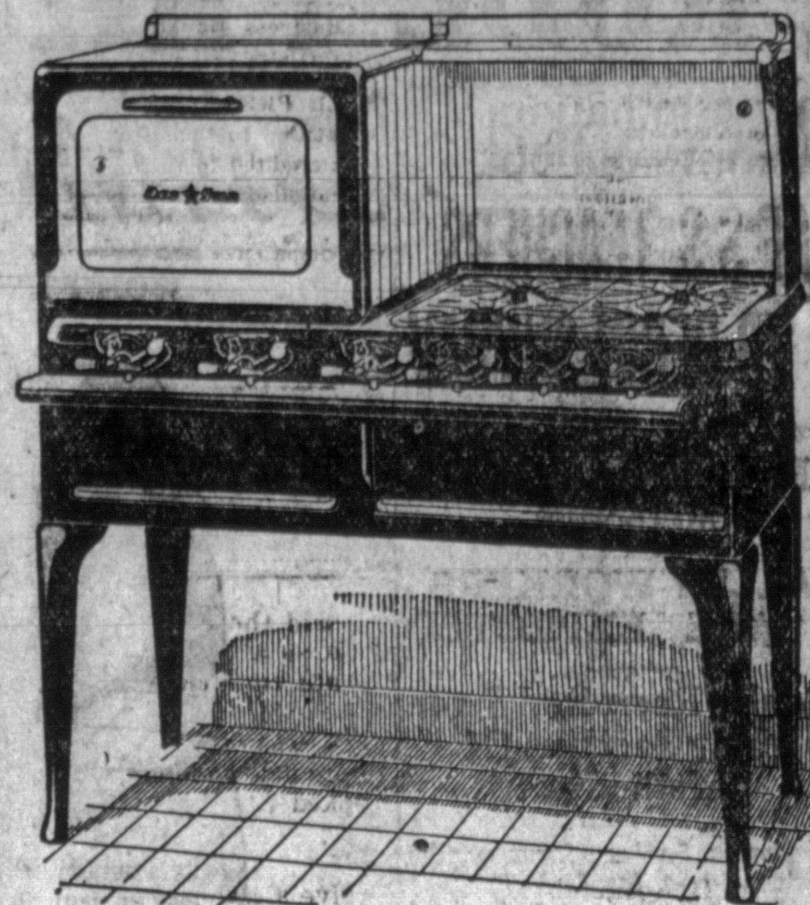

"But since I will not give these louts who accuse me so much satisfaction, lest I seem to go in fear of them, I must beg, sirs, that you will keep this matter entirely private until such time as its publication may be rendered necessary by events."

They saw the reasonableness of his proposal, and they consented, still entirely sceptical. But when they had made their examination they were utterly dumfounded to find all their notions entirely over-set. Master Baine, of course, drew up the required document, and signed and sealed it, whilst Sir Andrew added his own signature and seal as witness thereto.

With this parchment that should be his buckler against any future need, Sir Oliver rode home, uplifted. For, once it were safe to do so, that parchment should be spread before the eyes of Sir John Killigrew and Rosamund, and all might yet be well.

A DAILY PRAYER.—Thou hast said those who reign with Thee suffer with Thee, so may Thou enable us to know and appreciate the fellowship of suffering.

Considering how rationally aviators act, no longer can being up in the air be looked upon as it once was.

John D. Rockefeller expects to live a 100 years on a buttermilk diet, which means to many that he will be punished for the next twenty years.

YES, INDEED, THERE ARE VARIATIONS WITH THE RAPID WHIRL OF THE WORLD

A Huntsville barber shop extends to fair-week visitors and urges them to visit the shop "for clean and up-to-date washups." We didn't know before the habit of "washing up" was subject to variation in Huntsville. Mr. Pierce and The Daily Times, no doubt, can give us interesting information on the subject.—Albany-Decatur Daily.

Our good friends down Albany-Decatur way seem to overlook the fact that this busy old world is in an awful whirl and the variations are just as necessary as is the fact that every time we or anyone else visits the Twin Cities one of the first requisites is a washup and cleanup. Just why, we know not, but somehow it is necessary before the joys of the two towns may be fully included on the visitation or variation menu.—Daily Times.

THE ABOLISHMENT OF POVERTY BREEDING CONDITIONS A MIGHTY TASK

The discovery of a family of small children in want within the shadow of our schools and churches reminds once more that always we have the poor with us. But the people generally should not be content, to allow poverty in our midst, no more than they should be content to allow the rising generation to grow up in ignorance.

The wants of the family in question have been met, temporarily, at least. But just around the corner are coming other poor destitute children. The people should not be content, to alleviate suffering when it does come. They should do all within their power to prevent suffering.

Back of all such families as suffered in the little hut, beside the river near the Bee Line highway, some fault existed, that if it could have been known and treated early enough, there would never have been the heart rending story now fresh upon the minds of all.

The task of abolishing the bad conditions, both outward and inward, that brought about the suffering and want felt by that little family with only a feeble old man to care for it—is a stupendous one—one so great that it staggers the imagination. In our day such conditions may not be abolished. But some day—if all are willing and able to do their full duty—such conditions will pass away.

The response to the requirements of those needy people, was generous and commendable—but the people should go further and seek out ways and means whereby some sweet day, such occurrences will be impossible. The people of the Twin Cities are a church going people; a generous people and a people who love right and justice. Let them do all in their power to establish right and justice for all the people of this community.

LAFOLLETTE'S NEW PROPOSITION, THE PAID ADMISSION PLAN

In charging for reserved seats at his recent New York speaking, Senator LaFollette offers a new solution of the campaign expense problem. Certainly nothing is wrong with the idea from a legal standpoint; but it will hardly become a popular one.

In many parts of the country, so hard are political crowds to secure, that it is very hard indeed to get a crowd to hear a speaker explain his views on public questions under any circumstances.

It speaks well for LaFollette's organization or his power to draw a crowd that he was able to take in about $12,000 at New York. The prices charged for seats in the reserved section ranged from $1.50 to $2.50 each. No charge was made for ordinary seats. One reason the people will not hear a candidate if they have to pay for it, is because of the popular conception that the candidates and not the people are the chief beneficiaries of political campaigns.

In a very important sense the people stand to lose (most generally they lose) or gain in a political campaign more than the candidates. It is most important that voters inform themselves as to the character and opinions of all candidates for office. In a way, the people can well afford to pay to hear their candidates speak, but it will be a long time before they will do so.

LaFollette's crowd was made up in most part, no doubt, of the curious who did not mind parting with a little money and of rank partisans of the Wisconsin senator.

IS COOLIDGE'S SILENCE DOING HIS CAMPAIGN ANY REAL GOOD?

The silence of President Coolidge since he assumed office, during his pre-convention campaign and even now during his race for re-election has been taken by the Republican voters as a sign of good sense and by the Democratic ballot casters as an indication of the weakness of his position. So much propaganda was spread in behalf of the "Cautious Cal" attitude that even some Democrats were convinced that the president was really gaining votes by saying nothing.

That conception, however, seems to be undergoing a marked change. Some of the Democratic newspapers even are charging the president lacks courage to deal with the voters frankly on the questions of the day. Some of them charge that he has failed in his duty to censor openly, bitterly and justly, some of the acts of official misconduct which have been laid to the doors of officials.

The Florence Times, in this connection says:

President Coolidge declares that there is "no harm in not talking," in reference to his silence on questions in the present political campaign. "Not talking" may appear to be playing the game safe, but in the present campaign it isn't likely that Mr. Coolidge will benefit by his silence. Voters demand the right to know the position of candidates upon questions at issue, and their enthusiasm rarely follows the man who is not willing to take a brave and unqualified stand on matters that concern the public, it smacks too much of dodging the issue. "Not talking" gave the impression that the president was not dismayed at the scandals unearthed during the recent congress, and that he was in a measure indifferent to the corruption that was exposed. Nothing has yet been said to correct this impression, and it must be assumed that he was indifferent to the matter. Calculating political planning is presumed to be an attribute of Mr. Coolidge, but it appears that in his careful preservation of silence he is exceeding good judgment.

The quotation from The Times reminds us of a statement made here nearly a year ago by the distinguished Dr. Bateman, of Asheville, N. C., who was here for a series of revival services at the Decatur Baptist church.

Asheville is a cosmopolitan community and holds within its confines people of every shade of political thought. After talking with these people, Dr. Bateman told the writer:

"If Calvin Coolidge had acted frankly, sternly and openly in the matter of Washington scandals when they first were alleged, and taken a high moral position in the matter, forgetting politics entirely, nothing in the world could have kept him from being re-elected by an overwhelming majority."

WHAT THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE HAS DONE IN THE LAST SIX MONTHS

It is rather hard to enumerate the developments of the cities that the Chamber of Commerce has had a part in during the six months past. It is still much harder to obtain any idea concerning the immense value the advertising of Albany-Decatur has been worth to the cities and the section through the negotiations that the chamber has carried on outside this section. Think this over.

The Chamber of Commerce in the past six months has either been the sole means, has been instrumental, or in some other fashion played an important part in the revival of interest in the matter of road building and construction. It was instrumental in placing Albany-Decatur as the center of activity in the formation of the Tennessee Valley Road Improvement Association. It has been instrumental in the revival of interest in the bridge project that has held the attention of the people of this section for the past twenty years but has not as yet fully materialized.

It is not in the forefront at the present time but the work that has been carried on in educating the people to the real value in transportation facilities has been a big factor in the bridge project having been brought into view again.

The organization, which in reality is the property of every citizen in Albany-Decatur and the surrounding territory, has been the one means of Albany-Decatur being placed on the Chicago-Florida highway, a master stroke in the immense advertising scheme for the cities and incidentally a great increase in trade from the thousands of tourists that use the route annually.

The chamber has co-operated with the merchants and businessmen in some of the greatest events in good fellowship gatherings and good will promotion that has ever been held in the valley cities. Day after day and week after week manufacturers come to our cities to look over the field of exceptional opportunities that we have to offer and in practically every case they have been pleased.

There is excellent chance that a great number of them locate with us, things have not been misrepresented to them and they appreciate that fact when they look over this territory themselves. When they arrived they found what they were looking for. Thousands upon thousands of dollars worth of additional industries are now hanging on minor points. The manufacturers are pleased and they are coming to us if they find any sort of decent response in our own people.

Little has been said of what might be termed the spiritual side of the development so much has the average mind run toward the development in material things. The spirit of co-operation that has existed in the cities is to a great extent to be attributed to the work of the Chamber of Commerce in refusing to take sight of trivialities that have arisen during the past. This feature in the development of the cities has been of great worth as well as of great value in accomplishing things that the people have set out to do.

The Chamber of Commerce can accomplish even greater things with the people of Albany-Decatur firmly behind that body and anxious to serve whenever they are called upon. Let us all support the body that is calling the capital of the outside world to our door, at least be on hand to open the door with an enthusiastic welcome.

Hartselle News

The town was full of cotton Thursday and for the first time this season the ginning establishments were running full capacity. The better price now being paid for the staple has stimulated receipts and it is probably certain that from now on until the season ends, there will be lots of cotton on the market here each day.

Capt. R. A. Burleson and Mrs. Burleson are expected to return from Camp Perry in a short time. Capt. Burleson has been attending the national rifle shoot there for the past two weeks.

County Supt. of Education E. L. Hays was at Decatur on business on Wednesday afternoon.

Practically all of the rural schools of the county have begun the new term. While a satisfactory attendance is noted, according to the county superintendent, the attendance will be largely increased during October, when the boys can be released from the gathering of crops.

The circulation manager of the Albany-Decatur Daily, Mr. Hatfield, was in Hartselle Thursday morning, looking after the circulation of the Daily at this point. He stated that the Hartselle list was increasing each week, and that soon he hoped to have the Daily read in every home in Hartselle delivered by carrier.

Mr. and Mrs. John T. Cooper are receiving the congratulations of their friends on the free trip they are to take, early in October, to Sulphur Springs, Va. The Reliance Life Insurance company to bear all the expenses. The free trip was won because of the following facts: Mr. Cooper at the present time is the leading representative among fifty-two agents, having paid for considerably more than $200,000 in business the first eight months of the year.

Mr. and Mrs. Cooper will leave Decatur on the morning of October 5th, on the Pan-American and are anticipating the trip with a great deal of pleasure.

Mrs. Donie West, of Nashville, Tenn., after a two weeks visit to relatives and friends here, will return to her home Monday. While here she met many of her old friends and the renewal of these friendships formed many years ago, was a source of great pleasure. While here she made the trip to Somerville, her old home during the early seventies, and the memories of the long ago brought forth many recollections of both joy and sorrow.

ANNIE LAURIE

Dear Annie Laurie:—

I come to you for advice. I am going with a nice young man of 25 years of age. I am 20 years of age. We both work at the same place and some times we have a quarrel over nothing at all. We make up, but this is the second time this has happened and I cannot make up my mind to quit having anything to do with him or overlook the trivial matters, so I come to you and ask you what to do. He does not wish me to talk with other young men but he goes with other young women although I have never said anything about it. He is always criticizing my taste in dress and wants me to have my hair bobbed and we fell out about that. Now shall we keep on going like we are now or shall we forget each other.

Lonesome Butterfly

Lonesome Butterfly:—

According to the description of the young man in question as to his likes and dislikes I believe that it would be best that you do not consider him very seriously. He is certainly expecting too much in asking you to give up your other friends and has overstepped the bounds of convention in directing your taste in dress. The young man thinks entirely too much of his own opinions and I do not think that I should consider him more than a friend.

Texas Lady Says Her Family Has Been Taking Thedford's Black-Draught, When Needed, for Many Years.

Alto, Texas.—"We inherited the use of Black-Draught in our family," says Mrs. Mary Shuprine, who lives near here on R. F. D. 2. "My grandmother was an old woman when she died about ten years ago, and she had been using it literally ever since I can remember. She gave it to her children and grandchildren for biliousness and stomach complaints, so when I went to housekeeping we just naturally used it, too."

"I give it to my children for a purgative whenever they need one, and we are never without it. Made into tea, it surely is fine. It's the best home remedy for headache and constipation I know of."

During over 80 years of its continued popularity, Black-Draught has become the standard liver medicine in many thousands of homes, where it has been found of great benefit in the treatment of constipation, biliousness, indigestion and other common liver, stomach and bowel complaints. Ten million packages of Black-Draught are now sold a year, as more and more people are learning of the value of this well-known remedy.

Insist on Thedford's, the only genuine Black-Draught powdered liver medicine. At all dealers. NC-154

MRS. MORROW HONORED

Mrs. Frank Morrow returned on Thursday from Empire, Ala., where she had been invited to sing at a large celebration given by the Joseph A. Holmes Safety Service League. She received quite an ovation when she sang in her inimitable manner a group of songs accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Sam Givens, at the banquet at which 600 were guests. While in Empire Mrs. Morrow was a guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Summers.

Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Brock are expected home Saturday from Chattanooga, Tenn., where Mr. Brock underwent a slight operation. While there they were guests of their daughter, Mrs. A. C. Scott.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Alexander, of Birmingham, will be the week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Camp.

Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Hardage, Rev. L. F. Goodwin, Rev. A. H. Manly and Rev. A. N. Penland, have returned from Huntsville, where they attended the Huntsville Presbyterian.

Mrs. D. D. Burlinson and son, Joe, have returned from a visit to relatives in Birmingham.

PERSONALS

Little Edward Earl Dickinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Dickinson, was operated on for mastoid at the Benevolent hospital on Thursday night and is reported resting this morning.

W. M. Sandusky, of Montgomery, is visiting his mother here.

Dr. L. F. Goodwin left this morning for Birmingham, where he will be present at a meeting of the Alabama Home Missions Committee. He was accompanied by his little grandson, Price Hamilton, Jr., who spent the past week with his grandparents.

AMUSEMENTS

An atmospheric frame or one of the important scenes in the William de Mille Paramount production of "Icebound" is formed by a French background.

It is here that Ben Jordan (Richard Dix), the American soldier, gets his first taste of the joys of family life, of the laughter of children, the kindness of a mother and the fascination of a pretty girl's smiles and dancing eyes.

Returning to his home in New England, Ben rebels against the cold, repressed life of his own people. A girl who loves him tries to win him back with a dress copied, from one worn by the French girl, but her rival nearly carries the youth off by stealing the dress and wearing it.

Lois Wilson has the leading feminine role. Richard Dix is the soldier, and Vera Reynolds has the part of the other girl.

The picture opens today at the Princess Theatre.

SPORT WRITERS SEE MAKING OF GREAT BACK IN RAYMOND PEPPER

In casting an eye over the fresh prospects at Alabama Zipp Newman sporting editor of the News pulls five yearlings from the first year squad as men who will likely show the South some real football ability in the future years when the varsity lineup will contain their names. One of the choice candidates is Raymond Pepper, whose sixty yard tosses, line plunging antics, sterling defensive play, and punting made him a full back to be feared all over the state during last season when he was a great factor in bringing Central's victory over Cullman and Sheffield. The Cullman Bearcats proved to be harmless tabby cats before the heaving and plunging of Pepper so nothing was left for them to do but leave the field after they had assumed the short end of the score for the afternoon.

In what was possibly the greatest game of his high school years Pepper was the means of smashing the heavy Sheffield line to shreds carrying tacklers across the line with him for great gains. Central was behind at the time and it remained for Pepper with the very great aid of Captain Tuck now at Morgan Prep, Petersburg, Tenn., to rally the team and bring home the victory. Only once might it be said that Pepper failed to play the football that was expected of him. In the game against Coffee High of Florence on the local field Pepper...

role of quarterback owing to an injury to Gustin in the first quarter. Pepper's characteristic coolness left him and he played into the hands of the Florentines with beautiful ariel work and they had been drilled through the entire season to watch Pepper of Central and his tosses. Had he alternated with Tuck in smashing the forward wall the game might have carried a different story.

It is not unexpected that Pepper is already getting mention for his ability in the football arena. He is fast, shifty, a good man in the broken field line, an exceptional plunger and he has the weight and height for a great end. Local fans are looking for another great one in pigskin history for the cities of Albany-Decatur.

Central and Riverside High teams are slowly rounding to form to begin the season's grind. Both teams will possibly open next Friday afternoon although the teams that will play them have not been announced. Coach Webb and Coach Grimes have both had a very doubtful handful of material to begin the season with and it is very unlikely that any such record as was made last season will be hung up again this year at least. From the outlook at both schools line play will almost be out of the question on account of the great lack of weight in the forwards. Both squads are speedy and open play will possibly be adopted. The backfield material at both institutions are light and aggressive with very little experience but each has dependable men that can be counted on for gains when the extra yardage is needed.

Football followers are disappointed in the possibilities this year but they are determined to stand firmly back of the teams and share in victories and defeats alike. As it has been expressed by some who have attended the preliminary workouts, "Things don't look so exciting for a big season this year, but the boys will be there next season the whistle sounds."

Handball is going good at the Y. M. C. A. The business and professional men, as well as boys, are there in great numbers daily. Schedule number two of the season finds standing of teams, as follows:

Division A
	W.	L.	Pct
Go-Getters	5	0	1.000
Bear Cats	1	2	.333
Extractors	1	3	.250
Leaders	1	1	.250

Division B

Top Notchers	3	0	1.000
Path Finders	3	2	.600
Pinchers	2	2	.500
Pointers	0	4	.000

Teams playing tonight at 5:30 p. m. are the Bear Cats vs. Extractors and the Top Notchers vs. Pinchers. Men composing these teams are Shelton, Edwards, Story, Hildreth, Liggett, Burnett, Smith and Carter.

The swimming pool season at the Y. M. C. A. came to a close yesterday. In the place of it, particularly for the benefit of the boys after school hours, Physical Director Arvidson contemplates running volleyball matches, eventually organizing a volleyball tournament among the youngsters.

Athletics in various forms, such as baseball, volley ball and horse shoe throwing, is a popular sport at the Louisville and Nashville Shops during the noon hour. No less than sixty men are participants daily in these sports. S. E. Arvidson, physical director of the local Y. M. C. A. directs the above recreative activities. He proposes to extend the play activities in the shops to the point where 100 to 150 men engaged in amusements every day at noon.

A lot of youngsters of Albany-Decatur are preparing themselves for a foot hike tomorrow to Salt Petre Cave at Trinity Mountain. Physical Director Arvidson of the Y. M. C. A. will be personally in charge of this hike. Any boy in the Twin Cities 9 years of age and over is eligible for this hike. Boys should bring a spotlight or lantern along, and also a lunch. The party will leave the Y. M. C. A. building at 8 o'clock in the morning.

Children With Rickets Grow Well and Strong

If you are the parent of a child who is so unfortunate as to have rickets, you are advised to try McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Tablets for 30 days and not the results.

It's hard for children to take vile cod liver oil—the new method—McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Tablets—sugar coated and easy to take, is much better.

No matter how weak, thin, puny or undeveloped your child may be, these tablets will probably help it. If they don't, you can get your money back at Albany Drug Co., or any live druggist—60 tablets 60 cents. Be sure you get McCoy's—the original and genuine.—Adv.

MEMPHIS WINS

(Associated Press)
MEMPHIS, Tenn., Sept. 26—Memphis, Southern Southern Association champions, drew first blood in the 1924 Dixie series for the baseball championship for the South by defeating Fort Worth, Texas, League pennant winners, 2 to 1, in the first game of the Southern classic played to a decision.

It was a game of thrills with Otto Merz, veteran hurler, pitted against Ralph Head, former major leaguer. Merz held the hard hitting Texans to five hits, scattered through as many innings. Head allowed nine, but likewise well scattered.

Chinese Protest Pact With Soviet

(Associated Press)
PEKING, Sept. 26—The Chinese foreign office has lodged a protest with the Russian Ambassador here against the reported signing of an agreement by Russia with General Chang Tso-Lin, the Manchurian leader now engaged in war with the Peking government.

According to reports received by the foreign office, General Chang was accorded recognition in exchange for a pledge to Russia that he would not interfere with the operation of the Chinese Eastern railway which was built by Russia during the czarist regime.

Rheumatism

"Good-bye old crutch!"
THERE IS positively no longer any excuse for suffering the agonies of rheumatism! Especially in the autumn of your life, when the vital organs weaken, impurities multiply and linger in the muscles and joints, as never before. It is now, just now, when you cannot afford to guess. No day returns!

Here is a joyous fact which can mean to you a fond farewell forever to all the miseries, the tortures, the body-twisting pains that you have suffered from the demon of rheumatism. It is a fact that rheumatism means "blood poverty." It is a fact with the increase of red-cells in your blood, impurities are destroyed. It is a fact that S.S.S. will help Nature build these red-blood-cells! S.S.S. is one of the most powerful blood-purifiers in existence. Its results in thousands of rheumatic cases have been nothing short of amazing! The medicinal ingredients of S.S.S. are purely vegetable. This is very important to remember! What can be more inspiring, more wonderful than to see the shackles of pain released from your struggling body, swellings, lingering pains, stiffness of joints and muscles all disappear; your stomach made strong; your face pink with the old sweet-heart glow, your blood enriched and your cheeks more plump as they used to be. You can do it! Take S.S.S., the great destroyer of rheumatic impurities.

S. S. S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

BIRTH

Born to Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Sherrill a ten pound son on September 24th. The infant has been named John D. Sherrill.

Let Kellogg's Bran free your children from that dangerous disease—constipation

Children are subject to constipation. In the excitement of play, they neglect themselves and foster this dread disease. More than forty other diseases can be traced to constipation. Don't delay. Begin at once to cleanse their systems of the dangerous poisons.

Kellogg's Bran sweeps the intestine clean—and purifies it. It drives out the poisons which undermine your children's health. It makes the bowels function regularly and naturally.

Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled, is guaranteed to bring results if eaten regularly, or your grocer will return your money. It is guaranteed because it is ALL bran! Nothing but ALL bran can be 100 per cent effective. Kellogg's Bran is recommended by doctors everywhere—they know from experience that it brings results.

Have your children eat it regularly—two tablespoonfuls daily—in chronic cases, with every meal. They will like its wonderful, nut-like flavor—the different from common bran which are most unpalatable.

As a cereal, with milk or cream, they will enjoy Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled. Sprinkle it over other cereals. Cook it with hot cereals. Try it in delicious muffins, bread, griddle cakes and other recipes given on every package.

But start them eating Kellogg's Bran to-day. Start every member of your family eating it. Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled, is made in Battle Creek and is served in individual packages by the leading hotels and clubs everywhere. Ask for it at your restaurant. It is sold by all grocers.
